SPIRIT OF THE LAST DAYS

PENTECOSTAL ESCHATOLOGY IN CONVERSATION WITH JÜRGEN MOLTSMANN

A&C Black Early Pentecostals proclaimed the restoration of the charismatic gifts as a sign of the imminent coming of Christ. This eschatology was later marginalized by the rise of fundamentalist dispensationalism. Today Pentecostal eschatology is being revised to include a more transformative view of the kingdom. This book proposes a further revision of Pentecostal eschatology created to recover prophetic elements of early Pentecostalism that invite a responsible social engagement in the world, and to overcome fundamentalist assumptions which have crept into Pentecostal theology in its middle years. To this end, the eschatological thought of selected Pentecostal theologians is placed in dialogue with Jurgen Moltmann. This dialogue critiques fundamentalist tendencies within contemporary Pentecostalism by advocating a theology more open to history and creation, and a Pentecostal ethic both personal and social in scope.

Forgotten Books Excerpt from The Freewill Baptist Quarterly, 1864, Vol. 12: Conducted by an Association It is both pleasing and useful to trace the history of the struggle between Christianity and the various forms of unbelief and doubt, from the time of the Apostles to the present time. In such a course of reading, the book before us -is the best guide it has fallen to our lot to find. It is more than a mere guide, for it gives within its own compass much of that very history itself, both in its outline, and, to no inconsiderable extent, in the details. It even goes further, and attempts by analysis to detect the various causes underlying the history. If in the latter efforts we do not altogether agree with the author, we can always give him credit for honest labor and can did thought, frankly conceding that his suggestions help as to satisfy ourselves as to causes where he fails to assign them. A.J. GORDON

AMERICAN PREMILLENNIALIST

University Press of America This is a biographical study which surveys the life and career of Boston Baptist Adoniram Judson Gordon (1836-1895) and examines pre-millennialism as his motivation and source of his theological understanding. The study examines a moderate Calvinistic Baptist, tracing his theological development and analyzing his embrace of pre-millennialism and its substantial impact on his pastorate, denominational work, relationships, and enterprises. Gordon's significant role in the shaping of late nineteenth-century North American Evangelical Protestant Christianity is demonstrated in this biography.

RECYCLING THE PAST OR RESEARCHING HISTORY?

STUDIES IN BAPTIST HISTORIOGRAPHY AND MYTHS

Wipf and Stock Publishers Recycling the Past or Researching History? brings together an international group of Baptist scholars who explore various issues in Baptist historiography and myths. Contributors examine and re-examine areas of Baptist life and thought about which either little is known or the received wisdom is in need of revision. Historiographical studies include the date Oxford Baptists joined the Abingdon Association, the death of the Fifth Monarchist John Pendarves, eighteenth-century Calvinistic Baptists and the political realm, confessional identity and denominational institutions, Baptist community, ecclesiology, the priesthood of all believers, soteriology, Baptist spirituality, Strict and Reformed Baptists, the role of women among British Baptists, while various myths challenged include the nature of high-Calvinism in eighteenth-century England, baptismal anti-sacramentalism, episcopacy, and Baptists and change. The common theme tying these studies together is that research into Baptist history should deal with the primary sources and not, as has too often been the case, rely uncritically on the scholarship of previous generations.
